Individualized Education Program (IEP)

a. A brief description of the assessment and its use in the program

The Individualized Education Program (IEP) entry is completed during SPED 440: Home School Collaboration which is the course teacher candidates take in conjunction with their student teaching experience. The Individualized Education Program (IEP) artifact provides undergraduate elementary/middle teacher candidates' an authentic experience in creating an appropriate educational program for a student with exceptional learning needs. Special education teacher candidates must demonstrate competence in conducting educational assessments, writing present level academic and/or functional statements, annual goals, and short-term objectives. Evaluation procedures and other related components (e.g. Assistive Technology, accommodations, related services) with specific attention to the legal/ethical processes and regulations are necessary parts of this experience.

b. A description of how this assessment specifically aligns with the standards it is cited for in Section III.

Cite SPA standards by number, title, and/or standard wording.

Undergraduate elementary/middle teacher candidates work directly with students with exceptional learning needs during their student teaching in elementary or middle school programs. The IEP relates most directly to the following Council for Exceptional Children Standards #4, 7, 8, 9, 10.

CEC STANDARD 4: INSTRUCTIONAL STRATEGIES

How assessment aligns with CEC Standard #4: The IEP documents teacher candidates' ability to employ instructional strategy knowledge and skills in their design of appropriate educational programs for students with exceptional learning needs. Undergraduate elementary/middle teacher candidates must select, adapt and use instructional strategies to promote positive learning results for elementary or middle level students with disabilities. Candidates must employ evidence-based practices (ICC4K1) in their selection of strategies and materials according to student characteristics (ICC4S3). The aspect of the standard is assessed under rubric section: Introduction.

CEC STANDARD 7: INSTRUCTIONAL PLANNING

How assessment aligns with CEC Standard #7: The IEP documents teacher candidates' knowledge and skills in instructional planning as they write Annual Goals and Short-Term Objectives based on state and local curricula guidelines (ICC7K3) for a student with exceptional learning needs. Elementary/middle undergraduate candidates develop individualized annual goals and objectives based on the student's abilities/needs, the learning environment, and cultural/linguistic factors. Clinical supervisors and cooperating teachers provide feedback about the IEP so that planning process is comprehensive and collaborative (ICC7S2, IGC7S3). IEPs are written with strong suggestion to incorporate appropriate technologies when possible. The aspect of the standard is assessed under rubric section: Annual Goals, Short-Term Objectives.

CEC STANDARD 8: ASSESSMENT

How assessment aligns with CEC Standard #8: In order to write IEPs for students with exceptional learning needs, elementary/middle undergraduate teacher candidates must gather and conduct multiple forms of formal and informal assessment data (both formative and summative) to help identify exceptional learning need, develop/implement individualized instruction, regularly monitor student's progress, and adjust instruction accordingly to address student's exceptional learning needs (ICC8K3, ICC8K5, ICC5S5). Candidates are continually guided by legal/ethical principles and best theory/practice as they make decisions about meaningful nonbiased assessments for their students (IGC8K2, ICC8S6, ICC8S9). The aim is for candidates to collaboratively develop IEP goals/objectives for elementary or middle school students and report on results to families and relevant personnel (ICC8S7). Aspects of the standard are assessed under rubric sections: IEP, PLAAFP, Annual Goals, and Short-Term Objectives.

CEC STANDARD 9: Professional and Ethical Practice.

How assessment aligns with CEC Standard #9: In the IEP, undergraduate elementary/middle teacher candidates engage in important professional activities that benefit individuals with exceptional learning needs, their families, colleagues and their own professional growth. Candidates' development of constructive working relationships with families/colleagues and participation in learning communities that benefit students with exceptional learning needs is assessed in this entry (ICC9S8). Candidates must also demonstrate awareness of legal/ethical considerations and act with sensitivity to the many aspects of diversity of individuals with exceptional learning needs and their families (ICC9S1, ICC9S4). Teacher candidates are offered opportunities to self-assess and encouraged to make plans for their own professional growth. Aspects of the standard are assessed in rubric sections: IEP, PLAAFP, Annual Goals, and Short-Term Objectives.

CEC STANDARD 10: Collaboration.

How assessment aligns with CEC Standard #10: In the IEP, undergraduate elementary/middle teacher candidates must effectively collaborate with families, colleagues, and other related service providers/personnel in culturally responsive ways (ICC10K2, ICC10S2). The IEP requires clinical supervisors and cooperating teachers to assess the candidate's ability to serve as a collaborative resource to their colleagues as they aim to better meet the needs of students with exceptional learning needs through individualized educational programs. This standard is assessed in rubric sections: Introduction, PLAAFP, Annual Goals, and Short-Term.

c. A brief analysis of the data findings;

Since Fall 2007, all teacher candidates in the BS in Mild/Moderate Disabilities (Elementary/Middle) met standard (CEC standards 4, 7, 8, 9, & 10) by performing at the Acceptable or Target level on the overall analysis of the IEP.

Since Fall 2007, data was also collected on candidate performance on each component of the IEP rubric to allow for greater analyses of elementary/middle undergraduate teacher candidate skills. Overall, no clear areas of weakness were identified in the analysis of data.

d. An interpretation of how that data provides evidence for meeting standards: Evaluation data on the IEP indicates that teacher candidates have met standards through a rubric that documents performance on CEC Standards 4, 7, 8, 9, & 10. The IEP (along with the entire Exit Portfolio) is completed by the teacher candidate during their 8-week student teaching placement. Candidates conduct formal/informal assessments, created present level statements, and developed IEP goals/objectives based on math, reading or writing, and/or functional issue. As stated previously, all elementary/middle undergraduate candidates met standard by achieving "Acceptable" (or higher) on the overall analysis of the IEP Rubric.

Purpose

The Individualized Education Program (IEP) artifact is designed to promote reflection, discussion, and decisions regarding the regulations, process and various components of an IEP. The project provides the opportunity for special education teacher candidates to demonstrate competence in educational assessment, writing present level statements, annual goals, evaluation procedures and other related components of the IEP for students with exceptional learning needs.

Standards Addressed

The following Rhode Island Professional Teacher Standards (RIPTS) and NCATE/Council for Exceptional Children (CEC) Standards are addressed through development of the IEP Entry.

R.I. Professional Teacher Standards	CEC Standards	Conceptual Framework
RIPTS Standard 4: Teachers create instructional opportunity that reflects a respect for the diversity of learners and an understanding of how students differ in their approach to learning.	CEC Standard #4: Instructional Strategies: Special educators possess a repertoire of evidence-based instructional strategies to individualize instruction for individuals with exceptional learning needs. CEC Standard #7: Instructional Planning: Individualized decision-making and instruction is at the center of special education practice.	Knowledge: Human Learning and Development, Diversity: Cultural Diversity; Pedagogy: Assessment
RIPTS Standard 7: Teachers work collaboratively with school personnel, families and the broader community to create a professional learning community and environment that supports the improvement of teaching, learning and student achievement.	CEC Standard #10: Collaboration: Special educators routinely and effectively collaborate with families, other educators, related service providers, and personnel from community agencies in culturally responsive ways.	Knowledge: Areas of Specialization; Pedagogy: Professional Practice
RIPTS Standard 9: Teachers use appropriate formal and informal assessment strategies with individuals and groups of students to determine the impact of instruction on learning, to provide feedback and to plan for future instruction.	CEC Standard #8: Assessment: Assessment is integral to the decision-making and teaching of special education and special educators use multiple types of assessment information for a variety of educational decisions.	Knowledge: Area of Specialization, Knowledge: Reflective Problem Solving; Technology; Pedagogy: Assessment, Professional Practice
RIPTS Standard 11: Teachers maintain professional standards guided by legal and ethical principles.	CEC Standard #9: Professional & Ethical Practice: Special educators are guided by the profession's ethical and professional practice standards.	Knowledge: Area of Specialization, Pedagogy: Professional Practice

Process

Candidates collect and analyze assessment data on one student with exceptional learning needs as a basis for completing the IEP. Cultural and linguistic diversity and family issues must be considered with the analysis. Current regulations pertaining to IEP team membership, process and components are considered. Appropriate present level of academic and functional performance statements, goals, objectives, evaluation procedures and other IEP components are presented.

Product

Candidates develop a clearly organized Individualized Education Program Entry that includes all appropriate components consistent with the student's exceptional learning needs. The format of the IEP Entry is as follows:

Introductory Page

- A ONE-PAGE strength-based summary of the student's strengths and needs in separate paragraphs
- Describe the student inclusive of age, gender, disability label, dominant language, and language of the home.
- Summary includes brief statement of data sources (e.g. CBA, Woodcock-Johnson, etc) that contribute to strength and need statements
- A final sentence indicates the need for specific goals/objectives that are indicated in the IEP.

Individual Education Program (formal RIDE approved document)

The IEP must include the following information:*

- Present Level of Academic Achievement and Functional Performance statements (PLAAFPs) are indicated in the appropriate strengths and needs sections in strength-based terms. Academic areas can include English-Language Arts (reading recognition, reading comprehension, listening comprehension, written expression), mathematical calculation, mathematical applications, other academic areas (science and/or social studies). Functional areas can include organizational skills, behavioral skills, social skills, activities for daily living, communication access skills and vocational skills.
- Areas to be covered in IEP are clearly indicated.
- A baseline statement (with chart/graph when appropriate) is made that directly corresponds with the Annual Goal and Short-term Objectives. This statement is made in positive terms (e.g. what the student can do now?) rather than in what they cannot do yet. This statement also includes data sources as well.
- At least THREE measureable Annual Goals (AGs)—TWO focused on Academic need; ONE based on functional challenges; that directly relate to the present level statements.
- GLEs, GSEs, and AAGSEs are referenced underneath AGs.
- Short-term Objectives (STOs—at least 4/goal) that are observable and measurable
- Progress Monitoring and Evaluation Criteria and Procedures clearly stated that directly relates to baseline statement.
- Accommodations of coursework and modifications of programs are listed (when appropriate)
- State/District Testing Accommodation page is filled out as appropriate. This page corresponds with the Accommodations section information.
- Technology considerations are made
- Special Education Services (amount of time/degree of service) indicated
- Related Services (when appropriate)
- Headers are filled out with appropriate name, meeting date, and dates of IEP year
- If extended school year services are not warranted then dates must be written accordingly (e.g. 10/1/10-6/15/11; 8/30/11-9/30/11)

Submission Information

The IEP Entry is completed during the special education student teaching placement under the supervision of the Cooperating Teacher and the SPED440 Instructor. The Exit Portfolio must include the IEP rubric completed by the SPED 440 Instructor.

*IEP Entry components may be changed based on state and federal changes in IEP requirements
